LOK SABHA

The following Bills were introduced in Lok Sabha on 25.2.2000.

BILL NO. 79 OF 1999

A Bill to amend the Prevention of Insults to National Honour Act, 1971.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fiftieth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Prevention of Insults to National Honour (Amendment) Act, 1999. Short title.

2. In section 3 of the Prevention of Insults to National Honour Act, 1971, after the words "the Indian National Anthem", the words "and the National Song of India" shall be inserted. Amendment of section 3.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Prevention of Insults to National Honour Act, 1971 provides for punishment to any person who intentionally prevents the singing of the Indian National Anthem or causes disturbance to any assembly engaged in such singing.

The framers of the Constitution recognised "Vande Mataram" as the National Song of India and gave it a status equal to the National Anthem "Jana Gana Mana". In this context Dr. Rajendra Prasad, President of the Constituent Assembly of India made the following statement in the Assembly on the 24th January, 1950.

"The composition consisting of the words and music known as the Jana Gana Mana is the National Anthem of India, subject to such alterations in the words as the Government may authorise as occasion arises; and the song Vande Mataram, which has played a historic part in the struggle for Indian freedom, shall be honoured equally with Jana Gana Mana and shall have equal status with it. I hope this will satisfy the Members."

In Parliament, the National Anthem is played at the commencement and the National Song is played on the concluding day of each session of the Parliament. Several State Legislatures also do so.

It is, therefore, appropriate that intentionally prevention of the singing of the National Song Vande Mataram or causing disturbance to any assembly engaged in such singing is also made a punishable offence under the Prevention of Insults to National Honour Act, 1971.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objective.

BILL No. 89 OF 1999

A Bill further to amend the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fiftieth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order (Amendment) Act, 1999.	Short title.
2. In the Schedule to the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950, in Part XVI-West Bengal, after entry 38, the following entries shall be added, namely:—	Amendment of the Schedule.
“39. Deswalli Majhees”.
“40. Kurmis.”.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The tribe "Deswalli Majhees" are Santhal descendants and were declared as "Tribe" in the year 1941. The tribe "Deswalli Majhees" used to get benefits and legitimate dues guaranteed by the Government of India. Since 1961, the tribe "Deswalli Majhees" have been deprived of benefits meant for them and they have been suffering in many ways.

The tribe Kurmi are still observing and practising their age old traditional customs and preserving their tribal identity. Although, their history is unwritten yet their pristine culture and tribal dialect known as "Kurmali" is still a medium of expression among them. The tribe Kurmi were described as primitive and original tribe by the Government from time to time but not accorded status of tribes in the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950 in respect of the State of West Bengal. It is, therefore, pertinent to make available all benefits and assistance to Kurmi tribals for their overall development. The Bill seeks to include the "Deswalli Majhees" and the "Kurmi" tribes in the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) Order, 1950 in respect of the State of West Bengal.

More than half of the total population of our country lives below the poverty line, that is to say, whose total family income is below one thousand and five hundred rupees per month. Their income is so meagre that they have fight for their subsistence. Having hand to mouth existence they cannot even think of getting elementary education to their children. One of the basic aims of our Constitution is promotion of universal education and establishment of a classless and creedless society. The Government at the national level as well as at the State level should make provision for free educational facilities and provide books, uniform, writing materials, transportation and hostel facilities free of cost to the children of persons living below the poverty line. It will help in eradicating illiteracy from the country.

Hence this Bill.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 3 of the Bill provides for free education including medical, technical, legal and professional education by the appropriate Government to children born of parents living below poverty line. It also provides for facilities such as free hostel, uniform, meals etc. to such children. The Central Government has to bear the expenditure in respect of Union territories in implementing the provisions of the Bill. The respective State Government shall bear the expenditure in respect of their State. The Bill, therefore, if enacted, will involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India. It is estimated that a recurring expenditure to the tune of rupees one crore is likely to be incurred per annum.

A non-recurring expenditure of rupees one crore is also likely to be incurred.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 4 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules for carrying out the purposes of the Bill. These rules will relate to matters of detail only and as such the delegation of legislative power is of a normal character.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifty-first Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

- (2) It extends to the whole of India.

4. The appropriate Government shall give preference to persons who have successfully completed their military training in services under defence, para-military police and such other establishments and organisations, as it may deem fit, for proper utilisation of talent:

Employment to those who have undergone military training.

Provided that all such persons, who, after successful completion of their military training remain unemployed, shall be given unemployment allowances at such rate, as may be determined from time to time, by appropriate Government till they are gainfully employed.

5. The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

Power to make rules.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Almost all developing countries, even smaller in size, population and resources than India, have provided for compulsory military training for their youth and old. Providing compulsory military training to able-bodied citizens does not in any way run counter to the ideal of international peace and harmony, which has been the hall-mark of India's foreign policy since independence. Military training does not necessarily encourage the pugnacity of individual or the belligerence of the nation-States. On the contrary it inculcates qualities of discipline and sacrifice and fosters in each individual the spirit of brotherhood and amity. A well integrated and as well as a coordinated programme of military training would immensely beneficial to canalise the vast energies of our youth, young and would lead to their all-round development and in enhancement of the welfare of the nation. The people can defend and safe guard their houses from robbery and dacoity which are increasing day by day. Many innocent people are murdered in day light. As the extremist activities are on increase in the country, Central and State Governments have not been able to provide adequate protection to general public. Therefore, self-defence has become a must for every individual.

With this in view, the Bill seeks to provide for compulsory military training to all able-bodied citizens.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objective.

NEW DELHI;

The Central Government will have to incur expenditure in respect of the Union territories for carrying out the provisions of the Bill. The Bill, therefore, if enacted, would involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India. ## STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

There are millions of children particularly in the urban areas of the country who subsist on ragpicking. They collect waste-papers, waste plastic material and metal scraps, etc. thrown by the households and traders in the dustbins or littered in the streets, roads, etc. and then sell their collections for few rupees to the Kabadiwallahs every day who thrive on their labour. These helpless children are paid lowly for their waste collections. Many of the ragpicking children do this job to support their poor families as they are unable to get any other job for various reasons. Many of them are forced to do this job either by the compelling circumstances or by their alcohol addict or drug addict parents/guardians. A number of ragpicking children are orphans who subsists on this profession. These ragpickers work under pathetic and unhygienic conditions. They wake up early in the morning and rush to one dustbin after another full of garbage and dangerous virus. They collect the refuse from the stinking garbage dumps and contract dangerous diseases like TB, Hepatitis, Plague, respiratory diseases and even cancer. Undeterred they carry on this job till they are eliminated from this cruel world. Many of them though talented remain illiterate and always remain hand to mouth. They do not even get two square meals and a pair of clothes to wear. They always live in abject poverty.

Similarly, there are vagabond street children who do nothing except roaming aimlessly. They belong to poor families who have no means to send them to schools. Many of the vagabonds have skill, productivity and ingenuity but they have no means to show it to the world.

It is true that in a welfare State like ours the children must enjoy their childhood. They should get nutritious diet, good education and training and good atmosphere so that they may grow as responsible citizens. Since the families of the ragpicking children or such children themselves cannot afford the luxuries of good diet, education and training, the State must come forward for the welfare of these helpless children for their proper development. The Government should establish shelters for such children and open schools and training institutes for them wherein apart from free education and training they should be provided dress, books, writing material and other things free of cost so that their future is shaped well.

Hence this Bill.

NEW DELHI;
November 8, 1999.

(2) Subject to the provisions contained in sub-section (1), the Central Government may issue such direction as it may think fit setting out the principles which shall guide the authority competent to grant certificates under this Act in sanctioning films for public exhibition.”

Substitution of new section for section 5B.

Principles for guidance in certifying

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Since the past few years, films in our country depict excess sex, vulgarity and violence and are corroding the moral values of the people and thereby creating a negative impact on the minds of the people, especially the youth. As a result, many crimes are committed. People try to perform the scenes which they witness in films.

The films are making inroads into our cultural, moral and traditional values. If this situation is allowed to persist, the whole society will be corrupted. Although there is a provision for censoring films before they are released for public exhibition, yet the scope for rejecting any film is very much limited and as a result many films escape from the scissors of the censors. Not only our own films, foreign films also add fuel to the fire.

The scope of the Censor Board should be widened very much to enable them to reject a film which in their opinion would spoil the minds of the youth. The association of women members in the Censor Board is minimal and, therefore, it is proposed to increase the strength of women members in the Censor Board so that they can prevent films which depict women in an indecent manner. Certain guidelines have been proposed in the Bill to enable the Censor Board to function effectively.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objectives.

Power to make rules.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Despite all efforts made and welfare measures taken by the Central Government and the State Governments, the practice of begging continues unabated all over the country, especially in the metropolitan cities and urban centres. There are organised gangs who exploit innocent children and force them into begging not for the sustenance of these boys and girls but for gathering alms for the gang leaders and organisers. Some people have made forcing children into begging a business. They kidnap children and force them to go for begging and collect huge amount.

As per 1971 census the number of beggars in the country was 10 lakhs and the number has considerably increased during subsequent years.

Prevention of begging has to go alongwith programmes for education, training and rehabilitation of the children, women and men found engaged in begging. Some alternative source of livelihood have to be found for the beggars.

Therefore, it is high time that a law for prevention of begging is brought forward.

Hence this Bill.

NEW DELHI;

Power to make rules.

9. The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for carrying out the provisions of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Article 45 of the Constitution provides that it shall be the duty of the State to provide free and compulsory education to all children until they attain fourteen years of age. Although, the Government has taken many steps to achieve this end, yet, they are not adequate. At present, we have schools run by the Government and those by private organisations and minorities. All these schools follow different patterns and as a result there is no uniformity in the education imparted in these schools.

Uniformity in the system of school education is imperative to arouse consciousness of national integration in the highly sensitive and impressionable minds of the children. The type of education imparted to the children at the school level determines their growth in the final analysis as future citizens of the country.

Moreover, uniform system of education would avoid any feelings of discrimination or denial of equal opportunities in the matter of career advancement.

Although the Government has taken many steps to provide free education, the parents are not allowing their children to study. Due to poverty they send their children to earn money and this results in increase in the child labour in the country. Therefore, it is necessary to provide them with free meals, uniforms, books and scholarships so that such parents are tempted to send their children to schools.

It is, therefore, proposed to provide for uniform and free education upto the higher secondary stage.

Hence this Bill.

NEW DELHI;

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 3 of the Bill provides for free and compulsory education. Clause 4 provides that appropriate Government shall establish and maintain schools in every district according to its population and need for the purpose of imparting education. It is not known how many schools will be required for carrying out the provisions of the Bill. Some expenditure will be involved in setting up of schools and provision of free meals, uniform, etc. and scholarships to poor students (clauses 6 and 7). The expenditure in respect of schools in Union Territories shall be met out of the Consolidated Fund of India. ### STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Articles 38, 39 and 46 of the Constitution require the State to promote educational and economic interests of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes in order to render social justice to them and since employment including promotions in service is an aspect of economic interest of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes, it is the duty of the State to give adequate protection to the economic interests of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes. Moreover, it has been our national policy to make special provisions for the advancement of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes in matters relating to their employment or appointment, including promotions, to any office under the State. This view was also upheld by the Supreme Court in Rangachari's case in 1962 and ever since many judgements have been delivered by the Supreme Court on the above principle including the judgements in the Thomas' case and the Railway Karamachari Sangh's case.

However, in the recent Mandal case the Supreme Court took the view that reservation is confined only to initial recruitment and does not include promotion and, as such, reservation in promotion is not covered under article 16(4) of the Constitution. The decision of the Supreme Court is enforceable throughout the territory of India under article 142 of the Constitution unless a law is made by the Parliament annulling the effect of the decision of the Supreme Court.

In such circumstances it has, therefore, become necessary to amend article 16 and Ninth Schedule to the Constitution making reservation in promotion as a part of reservation scheme and such reservation of appointment and posts, which includes reservation in promotion in services and posts under the State, may not be subject to any judicial scrutiny.

However, it is all the more important that a separate Act should be made providing for ensuring reservation in appointments and posts for the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes, including reservation for them in promotions in all the departments of the Central Government and State Governments, nationalised banks, public sector undertakings, statutory authorities, autonomous bodies, companies or corporations, societies, local authorities, universities, educational institutions affiliated to the universities or those recognised by the Central Government or receiving aid from the Central Government, etc. Moreover, penal provisions have to be provided to ensure effective implementation of the Act and to ensure that the reservation is not less than fifteen per cent. of the total number of vacancies for members of the Scheduled Castes and seven and half per cent. of the total number of vacancies for members of the Scheduled Tribes at any given point of time.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objective.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 8(d) of the Bill provides that the appointing authority shall pay to the Scheduled Caste and the Scheduled Tribe candidates such travelling allowance, as may be prescribed, for the purpose of attending competitive examination and/or interview. Clause 11 provides that every appointing authority shall maintain such records, as may be prescribed, and shall furnish every year, in such manner and such time, as may be prescribed, to the Central Government an annual report on the appointments and promotions made by it during the previous recruitment year. Clause 16 provides for the preparation and laying of an annual report on the working of the Act before each House of Parliament. The Bill, therefore, if enacted, will involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India. It is likely to involve an annual recurring expenditure of about rupees one hundred crore from the Consolidated Fund of India.

No non-recurring expenditure is likely to be involved.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 17 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules for carrying out the provisions of the Bill. The matters in respect of which rules may be made are matters of procedure and detail and since it is not possible to incorporate the same in the Bill, the delegation of legislative power is of a normal character.

- (b) the necessary details of the unemployment insurance scheme;
- (c) the rate of contribution to the Unemployment Insurance Scheme under section 6;
- (d) the procedure to regulate all payments under this Act;
- (e) any other matter which is required to be, or may be, prescribed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The problem of unemployment has assumed menacing proportions. Even the educated citizens are rendered indigent. Lack of opportunity of employment in the country is also leading to brain drain and exodus of a large number of skilled and unskilled persons abroad. It is time that concerted efforts are made by the State to assure employment to the citizens of the country and to provide unemployment relief to those who have not been able to secure employment. It is also necessary to promote an unemployment insurance scheme for the purpose, so that the scheme may serve to finance the funds for the unemployment relief.

Hence the Bill.

NEW DELHI;

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 4 of the Bill seeks to provide unemployment allowance to the citizens who have attained the age of eighteen years or above. This provision involves a recurring expenditure of about one hundred crore rupees per annum from the Consolidated Fund of India. The recurring expenditure is expected to reduce substantially as and when employment is provided.

No non-recurring expenditure is likely to be involved.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 4 of the Bill empowers the Government to make rules for fixing the rate of unemployment allowance. Similarly, clause 6 empowers the Government to fix the rate of contribution to Unemployment Insurance Scheme.

Clause 7 empowers the Government to make rules for carrying out the provisions of the Bill. The matters in respect of which such rules may be made would relate to matters of procedure and administrative detail and it is not practicable to provide for them in the Bill itself.

The delegation of the legislative power is of a normal character.

BILL NO. 8 OF 2000

A Bill to amend the Cable Television Networks (Regulation) Act, 1995.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifty-first Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Cable Television Networks (Regulation) Amendment Act, 2000.

Amendment of section 5.

2. In section 5 of the Cable Television Networks (Regulation) Act, 1995 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), the proviso shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 6.

3. In section 6 of the principal Act, the proviso shall be omitted.

7 of 1995

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Cable Television Networks (Regulation) Act, 1995 is not applicable to certain foreign satellite channels like Star TV, AXN, etc. which are beamed directly or through cable operators. As such these channels do not follow any programme or advertisement code as provided in the Act. These channels telecast obscene films, pictures, etc. and also show advertisements with a view to advocating tobacco and alcoholic products which corrupt the minds of youngsters. Hence it has become necessary to bring all channels including free to air foreign channels within the purview of the Act with a view to enforcing programme and advertisement code strictly.

The Bill seeks to accordingly amend sections 5 and 6 of the Act.

BILL NO. 9 OF 2000

1. This Act may be called the Securities Exchange Board of India (Amendment) Act, 2000.

Amendment of section 4

2. In section 4 of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992, in sub-section (1), for clause (d), the following clauses shall be substituted, namely:—

- “(d) one member from a recognised Stock Exchange;
- (e) one member representing investors;
- (f) one member representing the Industry; and
- (g) two other members.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Securities and Exchange Board of India was set up in 1992 to regulate the activities of capital market. One of the main objects of the Board is to protect the interests of small investors. At present, there is no representative of the small investors in the Board. It is felt that for more efficient functioning of the Board it is necessary to strengthen the composition of the Board. It is accordingly proposed to include one representative each from a recognised stock exchange, small investors and the industry as the members of the Board.

The Bill seeks to achieve the above objective.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Constitution of India assures equality of opportunity and of status, socio-economic justice to all the citizens of the country.

Due to practice of untouchability on the Scheduled Castes and people living in the inaccessible scheduled areas, they have been denied education and opportunity for higher education.

Article 46 of the Constitution imposes a duty on the State to promote with special care of the educational interest, in particular of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes and shall protect them from social injustice.

Article 38 imposes duty on the State that it shall strive to promote the welfare of the people by securing and protecting as effectively as it may a social order in which justice social, economic and political shall inform all the institutions of national life and to endeavour to eliminate inequalities in status, facilities and opportunities among individuals as well as groups of people of the country.

Article 51A(j) imposes fundamental duty on every citizen to strive towards excellence in all spheres of individual and collective activity so that the nation consistently rises to higher levels of endeavour and achievement. For this purpose, special provision for the social and educational advancement of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, has been made.

It has been the policy of the Government of India and the State Governments to provide, in implementation of the aforesaid Constitutional mandates, reservation in admission in all educational institutions in all the courses of study, faculties and disciplines to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes not only in humanities but in engineering, technical, medical, post-graduation, M.Phil., Ph.D., super-specialities and technical courses of study so that the every Scheduled Caste and the Scheduled Tribe educated youth have opportunity to improve intellectual excellence and secure equality of status and dignity in the society.

In Indira Sawhney case, the Supreme Court opined that reservation in technical, super-specialities and other advanced and specialised courses of study shall not be made for the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes.

In another instance in Dr. Preeti Srivastava's case, the Supreme Court held that reservation in super-specialities in medical courses of study is not in the national interest and cannot be made and directed the Medical Council of India to consider whether reservation for admission in post-graduation course of study can be provided to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes.

The five Judges Bench of the Supreme Court in post-graduation centre in Chandigarh case, held that clubbing of the single post in post-graduation or in super-specialities is illegal.

It also held that relaxation of marks with disparity of ten marks between general and reserved candidates for admission of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes to the extent of reserved seats as illegal.

The aforesaid judgements defeat the very object of the reservation policy, purpose and constitutional animation and deny opportunity to the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes of education and deprive them to strive towards intellectual excellence in all spheres of their educational activities and to improve their cultural advancement.

With a view to effectively implementing the policy of reservation to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes in admission to the seats at the prescribed percentage in all courses of study and in all faculties, disciplines, professional courses etc. and to relieve the hardship to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes from the afore-mentioned Judgements, it is proposed to bring a law.

Hence this Bill.
